

Otto Warburg International Summer School and Research Symposium on Next Generation Sequencing and its Impact on Genetics

August 19-26, 2013

Max Planck Institute for Molecular Genetics
Berlin, Germany

Confirmed speakers

Wei Chen	MDC for Molecular Medicine, Berlin
Roderic Guigó Serra	Centre for Genomic Regulation, Barcelona
Matthias Heinig	MPI for Molecular Genetics, Berlin
Suzanne Leal	Baylor College of Medicine, Houston
Gunnar Rätsch	Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, New York
Peter N. Robinson	Charité, Humboldt University, Berlin
Shamil Sunyaev	Harvard Medical School, Boston
Shuhua Xu	CAS-MPG Partner Institute for Computational Biology, Shanghai

Scientific coordinators

Peter Arndt - Sebastiaan Meijnsing - Martin Vingron
MPI for Molecular Genetics, Berlin
Peter N. Robinson, Charité, Humboldt University, Berlin

Please apply through our website www.molgen.mpg.de/ows before June 14, 2013

We invite applications from PhD students and a limited number of PostDocs from different backgrounds (including molecular biology, bioinformatics, biological physics and mathematics). The program focuses on high-level teaching and topical research seminars. Participants are expected to give poster presentations or contribute talks. The registration fee of 750€ covers meals, accommodation and social events. For further information contact ows@molgen.mpg.de.